Condolences to all of Jim's family.

Tribute from James & Marriane Taylor

Relation: Acquaintance

Rose sorry for your loss. Though did not know Jim that well did run into him on Kootenay Lake and his famous hunt for batteries.

Tribute from Brian and Ev Sutton

Relation: neighbor

We are so very sorry for your loss.

Tribute from Joe and Sandra Lintz

Relation: Close neighbors for four decades, at least.

We were saddened to read of Jim's passing in his sleep. He will be missed, as I recall the many times he lent neighborly assistance with projects or repairs which he willingly provided. As a Nelson native, Jim's stories of early Nelson, the paddlewheelers, his years on the tug, the Bluebell mine all contributed to his interesting depth of character. He leaves us with many memories. May he forever rest in peace.

Tribute from Joe Lintz

Tribute from Donna Zalai

Relation: neighbour

I am so sorry to read of Jim's passing. When we building our home on Granger Road, Jim was the first one to welcome us to the neighbourhood and a constant visitor. When we were working outside in the yard he would often stop by his walks to chat about the old Bluebell Mine, bears and skunk cabbage and many other things. He was such a fixture in the neighbourhood. He continued to stop by even after my husband died and I missed his visits when he had to go into care. I will always remember him fondly.
