Thinking of you...

Tribute from Linda Rutherglen

Relation: A friend

Lorna ,I really enjoyed all of my visits with you . I especially enjoyed our ' What a revolting development ...' laughs.

Even through Lorna's downward spiral into dementia, often I'd see a twinkle in her eye and a witty comment would commence.

Lorna you will be greatly missed,

Not goodbye Lorna , but see you later

Tribute from Fatim DioubatÃ©

Relation: She worked with Mory for 5 years at Kieran and Van Hoff, Law Firm in Vancouver, BC

I met Lorna on December 22nd 1986 at the Law Firm of Kieran and Van Hoff and I immediately fell in love with her charm. She reminded me with my own mother who also was born on March 31, 1931 (Lorna was born on March 4, 1931). She was "the other mother" who made me realized how good I was and that there is no one better than me. A "mother" who shared my laughter as well as my sorrow. My family was fortunate to have met such a wonderful, amazing lady. She loved us dearly and included her family in her life by sharing family photos. She changed my husband life for the better. She told him to try drinking his coffee without sugar and milk. Mory has never touch sugar after that conversation. It has been 35 years. Lorna was a turning point in our lives. We will miss her dearly. Mory and Fatou DioubatÃ©

It was with great sadness that I learned the passing of my dear friend Lorna, the wonderful lady I called my other "Mother". I had the privilege to know Lorna's children : Val, Brenda and Johanne, Lorna has the best influence on me. For instance she taught me how to be healthy, She helped me improve my English writing. She was a wonderful writer who lived her life to the fullest. She will be missed tremendously, for she impacted many lives. Last summer we wanted to invite her to Toronto for my retirement party. That would have been the perfect opportunity for her to meet my family. Unfortunately she couldn't make it. The biggest regret of my life is that Lorna didn't get a chance to meet my children. She is in a better place now. May her soul rest in place. Val. thank you for informing us. It was very much appreciated.

Know that we have you in our prayers.
